Public Comment

Carol Schneider - 405 W. D Street

Schneider communicated her disapproval of the noise, fumes and negative aesthetics caused by the excessive use of off-road vehicles in her neighborhood. Pirkola imparted that a violation of the noise ordinance may be the only issue the City can enforce. He suggested that Schneider may want to consider a remedy though a civil suit. It was concluded that Schneider would meet with Acting Director of Police and Fire Services Mattson regarding this matter.

She expressed the concern that the homes being built across the street from her will not include storage. Stanchina confirmed that the City of Iron Mountain does not require storage to be constructed when a new house is built in town. He conveyed that requiring a storage facility to accompany the construction of a new home should be reviewed by the City.

Consideration of Obtaining a K-9 Re: Police Department

Ed Mattson, Acting Director of Police and Fire Services, highlighted the need for a police K-9. He offered a funding strategy that would include significant fundraising. Mattson stated that the K-9 would be cared for by a police officer. Moraska, Revord, List and Alessandrini voiced their support for the procurement of a police K-9.

Mattson indicated that the K-9 would experience higher than normal use initially, but that he or his deputy would ensure that the use of the K-9 is not being abused. He clarified that the City would have to determine if it is beneficial to train a new handler given the situation where the current k-9 handler is required to take extended leave. Revord stressed that the City will be covering the ongoing costs of a police K-9, while the fundraising efforts will cover the initial expenses.

Lisa Richards – 801 S. Hemlock Street

Richards thanked the Council for considering the purchase of a police K-9. She encouraged the City Council to support a K-9 program.

It was moved by Moraska and supported by Villa to move forward on the purchase of a police K-9.
