Jordan relayed that the bid will be awarded on Monday night. Corombos asked if the pump house was bid as a separate project. Peterson asked if the bids included charges for alternate items or costs above and beyond the projected budget. Baij stated that this issue would be considered if it came up. Peterson noted that in the past the low bidder encountered problems and became the high bid after it was awarded. Baij conveyed that additional costs are determined by unit prices and that he will make sure the drawings were not misinterpreted. Peterson asked if there was a max written into any of the bids. Stanchina noted that the city could deny any change orders that the contactor recommends. Corombos relayed that money for this project is coming from the water and road funds. He added that this project would be pretty cut and dry if well planned. VanLaanen noted that the city can hold the contractor to the low price even if they made an error.
